New Mexico Hamvention Inc. was incorporated in July 1971, as a 501(c)3 organization. The corporation consists of a board of directors of up to nine members. Each of us is dedicated to serving the ham radio community in New Mexico and beyond through organizing our annual three-day Albuquerque Duke City Hamfest and Convention. Hardly ancient technology, radio provides the backbone for much of today's and tomorrow's technologies from 5G networks, GPS navigation, and satellite-based internet networks, to collision-warning systems in a new generation of cars and trucks. It's the world of radio frequencies & these are amateur radio's playground. Ham radio is a gateway open to just about anyone of any age to discover or even contribute to, the art and science of radio communication!
